Phive – 5 Parramatta Square
Design Inc with Lacoste and Stevenson, and Manuelle Gautrand Architecture

Amidst Parramatta’s sprouting field of skyscrapers, the city’s sculptural square new civic, centre and library building cantilevers over the public square and carves out its own space, creating “a stage for the theatre of community life.”

Review by Mark Raggatt
Photography by Brett Boardman
